INTRODUCTION.

IN presenting the Salt Lake City Directory and Business Guide for 1869 to the public, it is necessary to briefly state the causes which have delayed its publication for several weeks beyond the time originally fixed upon for issuing it. In procuring the information contained in it much more labor was required, and longer time had to be devoted to it, than was at first believed would be necessary. The greater portion of the matter contained in it was also delayed on its transit to the printers by the heavy snow storms which impeded travel through the Rocky Mountains in February and March.

No pains have been spared to make the work a reliable one for future reference; and every change of business which has occurred from the completion of the canvass for the Business Directory, up to the work being put to press, has been carefully noted as far as information could be obtained.

The compiler begs to express his obligations for favors received in obtaining information to the Hon. George A. Smith, historian; A. W. Street, Esq., P. M., Salt Lake City; Robert Campbell, Esq., Recorder of Salt Lake City; Jesse W. Fox, Territorial Surveyor General; Hon. L. E. Harrington, American Fork; and Walter Thompson, Esq., Ogden, County Clerk of Weber County.

Respectfully,

THE PUBLISHERS.

SKETCH OF MORMONISM.

JOSEPH SMITH, the founder of the organization, was born in Sharon, Windsor county, Vermont, December 23d, 1805. His father's name was Joseph and his mother's Lucy; and their family consisted of six sons and three daughters of whom the future prophet was the third son. When he was in his fourteenth year his father moved to Manchester, Ontario county, New York, having previously resided four years in Palmyra in the same county. While in Manchester, and during a religious revival, he was, as he states in his autobiography, the subject of religious impressions; during which, while praying in the woods one day, he had the first vision, two glorious personages appearing to him, who communed with him. Some three and a half years afterwards, on the 21st of September, 1823, he had a second vision and received a communication relative to the plates upon which the Book of Mormon was inscribed. These plates, his history states, he obtained possession of on the 22d of September, 1827, from the place of their deposit, on the west side of a hill convenient to Manchester, the village where he resided. The plates were enclosed in a box, covered with a stone, and had been there for some 1400 years, having been buried by an ancient inhabitant of this continent named Moroni. The characters on them had been principally inscribed by Mormon, hence the title of the work.

Being poor and with the work of translating the records before him, in his exigencies he obtained assistance from a gentleman named Martin Harris; and in April, 1829, he made the acquaintance of Oliver Cowdery, a school teacher, who became his amanuensis, and the work of translating commenced immediately. The Book of Mormons, was put in the hands of the printers; but before it was published a church was organized on the 6th day of April, 1830, in the house of Mr. Peter Whitmer, Fayette, Seneca county, New York. Thus the Empire State not only produced the plates, from which the book was translated, but can claim the honor of the organization of that society which is the greatest problem of the century. Six members composed this church on its organization, a small beginning for the thousands into which it has grown and the power and influence acquired in the short space of thirty-eight years. The Book of Mormon was published, preaching and proselytizing were prosecuted with vigor, though the missionaries of the new faith were mostly uneducated, and churches were raised up in a number of places in a few months.

Early in 1831 a settlement was made at Kirtland, Ohio, and this may be called the first "gathering-place" of the church—a central point to wards which all who received the faith should converge. In July of the same year a lot was selected and dedicated, for a Temple, at Independence, Jackson county, Missouri. Here a printing press was set in operation and a periodical, the Evening and Morning Star, was published by Judge W. W. Phelps. Trouble broke out at Independence, between the settlers of the new faith and others inhabiting that region, and a mob tore down the printing office, tarred and feathered some of the prominent Mormons, abused others, and inflicted losses on the fraternity, in the destruction of property, to a very large amount. The Mormons were obliged to leave, and most of them fled into and settled in Clay county, in the same state. The Jackson county mob influenced the citizens of Clay county, and after a time the refugees had again to leave, this time settling in unoccupied territory, which received the name of Caldwell county, as well as in Davis and other adjacent counties, in Missouri. In three years they made wonderful improvements in their new location, for industry has ever been a prominent characteristic of the organization. At this time they were viewed with suspicion by many pro-slavery citizens there, who classed them as abolitionists, many of them having come from states where the abolition theory was gaining ground. For this cause, and because their industrious habits conflicted with the dissipated customs of a class always too well known in frontier settlements, as well as for religious reasons, troubles again broke out and the entire Mormon community was compelled to leave the state. Their next settlement was at Commerce, Hancock county, Illinois, where in a short time they built the city of Nauvoo, which was duly chartered by the state Legislature. They had built a temple at Kirtland, which was an immense effort in its size and costliness for so small and poor a body of people as they then were. But in Nauvoo one was commenced on a scale proportionately greater to correspond with their increased numbers, wealth and importance. This they finished; but before it was completed, their Prophet, Joseph Smith, and his brother Hyrum Smith, the Patriarch of the Church, were murdered in Carthage, where they were imprisoned on a charge of treason. The Missouri enemies of the prophet and his followers, had never ceased their efforts against him and his people, preferring charge after charge which were disposed of by the courts, he always obtained an acquittal; until this last charge, when the mob would not wait for the result of a trial, but shot him and his brother dead while in prison under guard, wounding at the same time Elder John Taylor, one of the Twelve Apostles. They held Governor Ford's pledge for their safety at the time. This was on the 27th of June, 1844.

Soon after the Mormons were compelled to leave Illinois, and took up their line of march in February, 1846, for the then almost unknown west. That Fall and Winter the main body of the refugee Saints located in the neighborhood of the Missouri River, near what is now Council Bluffs and Omaha, where temporary settlements were formed. Next Spring, President Brigham Young started westward with 148 pioneers, broke a road, forded streams and built bridges from the Missouri over the great plains and through the Rocky Mountains, arriving in Salt Lake Valley on the 21st of July, 1847. As soon after as possible the main body followed, a provisional State government was formed, gentlemen were sent to Washington to represent the new colony; and in 1849 a Territorial government was granted to them for the Territory of Utah. Since that time they have prospered exceedingly; their cities, towns and settlements number about two hundred with a population of nearly 150,000 souls. Besides these there are branches of the Church in many parts of the United States; and in Europe the communicants of the faith number nearly 20,000. Their missionary efforts have been directed to every country where religious toleration would permit them to carry and disseminate their views. Most European and some Asiatic nations, as well as Australia and several of the Pacific Islands, have given proselytes to the faith; and almost all the old members of the Church are native born citizens of the Union, which still adds largely to the believers in the latter-day dispensation.

The Church is organized with a First Presidency of three; a Council of Twelve Apostles; a Patriarch; a quorum of High Priests of indefinite number; sixty-four quorums of Seventies; an Elders' Quorum; a Presidency of three and a High Council of twelve for each Stake of Zion; a Presiding Bishop for the Church with two Counselors; a Bishop for each Ward; a Priests' quorum; a Teachers' quorum; and a Deacons' quorum.

The present authorities of the Church are:

Brigham Young, President; George A. Smith his first and Daniel H. Wells his second counselor.

Orson Hyde, President of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles, and Orson Pratt, Sr., John Taylor, Wilford Woodruff, Ezra T. Benson, Charles C. Rich, Lorenzo Snow, Erastus Snow, Franklin D. Richards, George Q. Cannon, Joseph F. Smith and Brigham Young, Jr., members.

John Smith, Patriarch.

John Young, President of the High Priests' Quorum; Edwin D. Wooley and Samuel W. Richards counselors.

Joseph Young, President of the first seven Presidents of the Seventies, and Levi W. Hancock, Henry Harriman, Albert P. Rockwood, Horace S. Eldredge, Jacob Gates, and John Van Cott, members of the first seven Presidents of the Seventies.

Edward Hunter, Presiding Bishop, Leonard W. Hardy and Jesse C. Little, his counselors.

George A. Smith, Historian and general Church Recorder, and Wilford Woodruff, assistant.

TERRITORY OF UTAH.

UTAH occupies an area of about 65,000 square miles, which includes large tracts of wild and mountainous country. It extends from the 37th to the 42d parallels of north latitude; and from the 109th to the 114th degrees of longitude. About 130,000 acres are under cultivation; of which, in 1867, over 80,000 were planted in cereals; nearly 2,000 in sugar cane, from which molasses was made; some 6,800 in root crops; nearly 200 in cotton; 900 in apple orchards; 1,000 in peaches; 75 in grapes; and 195 in currants; while 30,000 were in meadow; of this about 94,000 acres had to be irrigated, at a cost during the year, in making canals, dams for irrigation purposes, cleaning out ditches, etc., of nearly $247,000. The result of the grasshopper visitation in 1868 presents details far below the average of other years. Even in 1867, the loss to the cereals, and part of the fruit and root crops, averaged over one-sixth of the whole, as compared with former years and with the promise for harvest before the insects appeared.

Correct returns of mineral operations in the Territory have not been made. Gold has been found in small quantities in various parts of the Territory, as the result of extensive prospecting, but not to an extent that pays for outlay, although during the summer of 1868 a number of men were at work in Bingham's Canon, in the Oquirrh range, on the west side of Salt Lake Valley. Silver has also been found in the Wasatch Mountains, east side of the Valley, in Cottonwood Canon, but it has not paid remuneratively for working.

Iron ore exists in vast quantities in several parts of the Territory. In Iron county, works were erected in 1852, and a small quantity of iron was made, but the lack of the proper fuel compelled a cessation of the works, which were ultimately abandoned. In Summit county, iron ore exists to a considerable extent.

On the Pinto, Iron county, the Union Iron Company commenced operations in June, 1868, with Ebenezer Hanks, president; S. M. Blair, Peter Shirts and Robert Ritchey, directors, and Chapman Duncan, agent. On the first of January, 1869, they had two furnaces in operation, with another in course of erection; and had a fair prospect of being successful.

Coal is found extensively, but principally in the neighborhood of Coalville, in Summit county. Fresh veins were discovered up Echo Canon during the construction of the grade for the U. P. R. R., in August of 1868. An excellent quality of coal is also obtained in Sanpete, which is used extensively for blacksmithing purposes.

MEN'S, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BOOTS Exceedingly Cheap, at DUNFORD & SONS.

Copper, lead, bismuth, limestone, etc., exist in considerable quantities in the Territory.

The following, with some slight and necessary corrections, is taken from the Great West and Union Pacific Railroad Guide, published by The American News Company, New York :

"Settlements were made in Utah as early as July, 1847. It originally formed part of Mexico, but by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, in 1848, it was ceded to the United States. The comparatively small beginning in 1847 has grown and lengthened, until now the settlements extend to a distance of three hundred miles north and south ; and wherever a valley can be found that can be watered, there you will find the industrious, uncomplaining settlers, making an honest living in a way most congenial to nature and most conducive to health, by the cultivation of the soil. Not only are the ordinary vegetables and cereals produced, but in the southern part of the Territory they are raising cotton, the product of free white labor, thereby removing the objection of some of our eastern friends to the use of this necessary article. In a word the desert has been converted into the fruitful field, and the frowns of nature exchanged for smiles of gladness.

"The country for the most part is mountainous, interspersed with valleys, which can only be cultivated by irrigation.

"The melting of the snow in the mountains affords in ordinary seasons sufficient water to cultivate the valleys successfully.

"The summers are very warm and dry ; the winters generally mild and open. The fall of snow is light in the valleys and heavy in the mountains. The climate may be said to be invigorating and healthful, fevers and pulmonary complaints being almost unknown.

"The soil, which, to a very great extent, is formed of the mountain washings, consists principally of gravelly loam, and is well adapted to the growth of wheat and other cereals.

"Wheat is indeed the great staple product of the Territory. In good seasons the average yield per acre is about twenty-five bushels. Sixty to seventy bushels are not unfrequently obtained ; and in some instances as high as eighty bushels have been raised from a single acre.

"Oats, barley, rye, and flax are cultivated with great success.

"All kinds of vegetables grow astonishingly large, and of a superior quality.

"In Washington county, in the southern part of the Territory, large fields of cotton are cultivated, the growth of which will be sufficient in a few years to supply all the wants of the people. In 1863 quite a considerable quantity of cotton was exported to the States at remunerative prices.

"Madder, indigo, figs, grapes, and other tropical fruits are also raised in this part of the country.

"Timber is scarce, and being found only in the mountains and 'kan-yons,' is very difficult of access. As a consequence of this, houses are costly to build, and rents are proportionately high.

"The climate and soil of Utah are particularly adapted to the production of fruit; and her citizens, no doubt, feeling the promptings of an internal as well as external nature, have improved their opportunities for cultivation. Apples, pears, peaches, apricots, plums, grapes, currants and other fruits are produced, not only in great abundance, but of a superior quality.

In addition to flouring and other mills necessary for the support of the Territory, woolen and cotton factories are being established in different parts of the country for home supplies."

The property value of Utah, according to the Territorial Auditor's Report for 1868, was $10,533,872; and the amount of tax assessed on it, for the same year, $52,669. Of these amounts, Salt Lake county owned property assessed at $4,379,652.80; and was taxed, for Territorial purposes, $21,898.26. The Territory has no debt; but in the Treasurer's hands, at the close of the last fiscal year, was a balance of $17,000, not drawn for the purposes for which it had been appropriated.

There are in the Territory 186 school districts, having 226 schools, on the rolls of which are the names of about 18,000 pupils. The teachers number 306, who received for the the year $61,839.

The population of the Territory is estimated at 180,000.

The government is vested in Executive, Judicial and Legislative departments.

SALT LAKE CITY.

SALT LAKE CITY is situated at the foot of a spur of the Wasatch mountains, its northern limits running up unto the "bench," or elevated portion of the valley, which reaches to the base of the mountains. It can be approached from the east by two canons—Emigration canon, through which nearly all travel formerly passed, and which debouches in the valley between three and four miles from the city; and Parley's canon, through which the stage road runs. The mouth of the latter canon is some six miles from the city, in a southeasterly direction, and the road between them runs past a tannery, two woolen mills, and a paper mill, all worked by the water of the creek that dashes down the canon hollow. The scenery in each is bold and impressive, the mountain sides of these passes in the Wasatch range rising with wild abruptness from extremely narrow gorges, and covered on their summits with pine, maple, oak, and other kinds of timber, extensively used for lumbering purposes and fire wood. Nearly thirty miles to the south the mountain range juts across the valley, partially separating it from Utah valley, which contains the lake of the same name. To the west of the valley rises the Oquirrh range of mountains; and north of them, about twenty miles from the city, in a westerly direction, lies Salt Lake, with several mountainous islands jutting out of its bed, which have been utilized for herd grounds, sheep ranges, and salt boiling. The streets in the main portions of the city are laid out at right angles, and run north and south, east and west. They are 132 feet wide, with rivulets of water gurgling down each street, used for irrigation, and for culinary purposes where wells are not sunk. The culture of shade trees, which have a rapid and healthy growth from these streams, is much encouraged; and as almost every lot has an orchard, when the summer foliage clothes fruit and shade tree with a full covering of green, the picture which the city presents is then exceedingly pleasant and beautiful. The blocks contain ten acres each, and were originally laid out to contain eight lots to the block; but the growth of business, and other causes, have changed this design in the centre of the city, where the buildings are erected closer together. In the 20th ward, the northeast portion of the city, which is a survey of more recent date than the first settled part, the blocks contain only two and a half acres each, and the streets are proportionately narrow; and a portion of the 17th and 19th wards, in the northwest part, contains crooked and irregular streets, caused by the peculiar character and irregularities of the ground.

The city contains about 25,000 inhabitants. It has several tanneries, grist mills, the woolen factories mentioned before, the paper mill, a pail factory, steam wood working factories, furniture factories, large adobe yards, brick yards, etc., etc. Its City Hall, not long built, cost $70,000, yet the corporation is entirely free from debt.

The government is vested in a Mayor, five Aldermen, and nine Councilors.

GUIDE TO THE PUBLIC BUILDINGS, ETC., IN SALT LAKE CITY.

THE TEMPLE.

Not yet completed, situated near the east centre of Temple Block. The ground was consecrated February 14th, 1853; corner stones laid April 6th following, sixteen feet below the surface of the ground. Its total length is 186½ feet; width 99 feet; and covers an area of 21,850 feet.

THE TABERNACLE.

Inside Temple Block. First opened to public worship October 6th, 1867, though then unfinished. It is an oblong, 250 feet from east to west, by 150 feet from north to south. The roof is a single oval span, 80 feet high with the ceiling 65 feet above the flooring, and rests on 46 square pillars of red cut sandstone. It is capable of seating about 8,000 persons; and has an organ in course of construction, inside the building, said to be the largest in the United States. Entrances to building from S. and W. Temple streets.

OLD TABERNACLE.

Erected in 1851 of adobies, now used for public worship during winter; stands south of the New Tabernacle on the same block; is 126 feet by 64 feet, and can seat over 2,500 persons.

COUNCIL HOUSE.

Northeast corner of block between S. and E. Temple streets; erected 1849, of red sandstone, two stories, 45 feet square, now occupied by University of Deseret and Commercial Bazaar.

COURT HOUSE.

Southwest corner of block between 2d W. and 2d S. streets; cost about $20,000. The U. S. Supreme Court, the U. S. and Territorial Courts, for the 3d judicial district, and the Probate Court for Salt Lake county, are held here. Underneath are the cells of the county prison.

CITY HALL.

1st S. between 1st and 2d E. streets, 60 feet square, two stories; cost $70,000. Contains the Mayor's, Recorder's and City Treasurer's offices; an Alderman's and Justice's Court room; Council Chamber; Territorial Library; City Attorney's office, and that of the Adjutant General of the Nauvoo Legion—the territorial militia. The sessions of the Legislative Assembly are held in this hall.

CITY PRISON.

Rear of City Hall. Strongly built of cut sandstone; the blocks have an inch and a half ball laid between each two to prevent criminals cutting through the cement. Cost, over $30,000.

SEVENTIES' HALL.

1st E. between 1st and 2d S.; 50 feet by 80 feet; principally used for free public lectures.

THEATRE.

Corner of 1 E. and 1 S.; 144 feet by 80 feet, in the main building, but an addition of 28 feet to the north end makes it 172 feet in length. The auditorium is divided into parquette, first or dress circle, second and third circles, and is capable of seating nearly 1,700 persons. The circle, balconies and proscenium are tastefully finished in white and gold. The stage is 80 feet deep, and at the back are the green room, large scene room, the copyist's room, manager's office, with a number of dressing rooms up stairs. Other dressing rooms, atelier, machinist's work room, etc., are also in the rear of the main building.

The Box office is on the west side of the portico in front, which is furnished with fluted columns.

SOCIAL HALL.

1 E. bet. S. T. and 1st S. streets; 73 feet by 33 feet; built 1853; formerly used for theatrical purposes and social parties; now devoted to balls and parties.

MUSIC HALL.

1st S. bet. 1st and 2d W. streets; used for concerts, balls, parties, etc.

INDEPENDENCE HALL.

7th ward, 3 S. bet. E. and W. T.; used for lectures, meetings, parties, and school purposes. Episcopal service and other religious meetings held in it.

THIRTEENTH WARD ASSEMBLY ROOMS.

2d S. bet. 1st and 2d E.; used for ward and general meetings, concerts, etc.

Each ward in the city has a hall, or meeting-house, used for ward and general meetings.

BATHS AND SPRINGS.

CITY BATHS.

Northwest of city, on State road north, are plunge and private baths. The water of these baths is of a highly medicinal quality.

Dr. Charles T. Jackson, of Boston, made an analysis of the water in 1849. The following is his report:

"Three fluid ounces of the water on evaporation to entire dryness in a platina capsule gave 8.25 grains of solid, dry, saline matter.

Carbonate of Lime and Magnesia.....	0.240	1.280
Per Oxide of Iron.....	0.040	0.208
Lime.....	0.545	2.907
Chlorine.....	3.454	18.421
Soda.....	2.877	15.344
Magnesia.....	0.370	2.073
Sulphuric Acid.....	0.703	3.748
	8.229	43.981

It is slightly charged with Hydro Sulphuric Acid Gas, and with Carbonic Acid Gas, and is a pleasant, saline, mineral water, having valuable properties belonging to saline sulphur springs."

The usual temperature is laid down at 102 degrees F.

HOT SPRINGS.

Two miles further north are the Hot Springs, very similar in quality and component parts to the Warm Springs, but issuing from the foot of a rock at the base of the mountain in a stream as thick as an ordinary sized man's leg, and of boiling heat. Close by, to the west, is a beautiful little lake, some three miles long by a little over a mile in breadth, which is formed from the waters of these springs and is known as the "Hot Spring Lake." It is fringed with a growth of trees, looks very pretty in the summer, and in winter, when frozen over, is a favorite resort for skating parties.

LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SHOES VERY LOW, AT DUNFORD & SONS.

SALT LAKE COUNTY.

Salt Lake County covers an extent of over 400 square miles, a considerable portion of which is under cultivation. To the west of Jordan river, which runs northward through the valley, is a large tract of land lying within the county, which is principally used as a range for cattle. Large amounts have been expended to bring the water of the Jordan out, and carry it through canals to irrigate portions of this land, and the result is numerous productive farms where but a short time ago were rabbit brush and scant herbage for cattle. The population of the county is between 30,000 and 35,000.

IN PEACE OR WAR

The value of a good and efficient "Shooting Iron" is beyond question, to

The Traveler, the Tourist,

Or the Resident Citizen.

FOR DEFENCE IN A FRONTIER COUNTRY.

In repelling AN INDIAN ATTACK, it is invaluable; and if the Sportsman or Hunter would seek the "Grizzly" in his haunts amid the Sublime Scenery of the Rocky Mountains, he must carry with him a weapon upon which he can rely.

The abundance of small game which invites the Sportsman to so many localities in the West; and the Mountain Streams abounding with the most delicious Trout, are inducements to every lover of sport to supply himself with the necessary articles for enjoying it, which he can obtain of

RATES OF INTEREST IN THE UNITED STATES.

ALABAMA.—Eight per cent.; forfeit interest and usury.

ARKANSAS.—Six per cent.; by agreement as high as ten; forfeit usury and contract void.

CALIFORNIA.—Where there is no express contract in writing, ten per cent. Parties may agree in writing for the payment of any rate whatever on money due or to become due on any contract.

CONNECTICUT.—Legal interest six per cent.; forfeit all interest, but allows the original amount lent.

DELAWARE.—Six per cent.; forfeit of the whole debt.

FLORIDA.—Legal interest six per cent.; may agree to give eight; forfeit the whole interest paid.

GEORGIA.—Seven per cent.; usurious contracts forfeit all interest paid.

ILLINOIS.—Six per cent.; contracts for money loaned ten per cent.; forfeit threefold the amount of the whole interest.

ALL GOODS in BOOTS, SHOES, HATS and CAPS very CHEAP at DUNFORD & SONS.

INDIANA.—Six per cent.; forfeit all the interest paid.

IOWA.—Six per cent.; by agreement as high as ten per cent.

KENTUCKY.—Six per cent.; forfeiture of excess of interest paid.

LOUISIANA.—Five per cent.; eight per cent. on special contracts; forfeiture of all interest received or paid; usurious interest may be recovered back.

MAINE.—Six per cent.; forfeit of the claim for usury.

MARYLAND.—Six per cent.; no longer any penalty.

MASSACHUSETTS.—Six per cent.; forfeit of thrice the usury.

MICHIGAN.—Seven per cent.; on special contracts ten per cent.; and all above that may be recovered as any other debt.

MISSISSIPPI.—Six per cent.; by agreement as high as eight per cent. on money loaned; forfeit the usury.

MISSOURI.—Six per cent.; beyond this forfeit of all interest.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—Six per cent.; forfeit of thrice the amount unlawfully taken.

NEW JERSEY.—Six per cent.; forfeit of the whole debt.

NEW YORK.—Seven per cent.; usurious contracts void.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Six per cent.; contracts for usury void, and forfeit double the usury.

OHIO.—Six per cent.; by special contract, ten per cent.; forfeiture of all the interest paid above six per cent. This is the rule established by the courts; the statutes prescribe no penalty.

OREGON.—Ten per cent.; by contract, twelve per cent.; for illegal interest, forfeit to school fund debt and all interest.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Six per cent.; forfeit of the whole debt.

RHODE ISLAND.—Six per cent.; forfeit of usury above six per cent.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Seven per cent.; forfeit of all interest taken.

TENNESSEE.—Legal interest six per cent.; liable to an indictment for misdemeanor; if convicted, to be fined a sum not less than the whole usurious interest taken and received, and no fine to be less than ten dollars; the borrower and his judgement creditors may also, at any time within six years after usury is paid, recover it back from the lender.

TEXAS.—Eight per cent.; by special contract, twelve per cent.; forfeiture of all the interest paid or charged.

VERMONT.—Six per cent.; recovery in an action with cost.

VIRGINIA.—Six per cent.; all contracts tainted with usury void.

WISCONSIN.—Seven per cent.; by contract any amount agreed upon by the parties, not exceeding twelve per cent. Excess, forfeiture of the entire debt.

In England and France legal interest is five per cent., in Ireland six.

CAMP DOUGLAS.

THIS post is situated about two and a half miles east of Salt Lake City, and is pleasantly located on the eastern "bench," not far from the base of the mountains. It is well laid out, with buildings neatly and tastefully finished. The quarters are capable of holding about 3,000 troops. The following is a list of the TOWNS IN THE VICINITY OF SALT LAKE CITY.

SOUTH.

South of Salt Lake City, in Salt Lake county, are a number of settlements; and a considerable portion of the county is cultivated and inhabited, the dwellings being more or less scattered, as in an old settled farming country. The first city on the direct road is

LEHI,

In Utah county, thirty-one miles south of Salt Lake City. It is pleasantly situated on a plain, about three miles north of Lake Utah, a beautiful sheet of fresh water nearly thirty miles in length from north to south, by about fifteen miles in width from east to west. The streets of Lehi, as in all the cities and towns of Utah Territory, are wide, fringed with shade trees, with water running down by the sidewalks, used for irrigation purposes. Present population about 1,000.

AMERICAN FORK

Is four miles from Lehi; L. E. Harrington, Mayor and Postmaster. It was incorporated in 1853, and is a thriving little city. The hay lands surrounding it afford a considerable quantity for the Salt Lake market. It has a co-operative mercantile association, of which Mayor Harrington is President, which owns a respectable store doing considerable business. Population 1,200.

PLEASANT GROVE

Is three miles from American Fork, and is laid out one mile square, with the streets running at right angles. It has a co-operative mercantile association. Thomas Wooley is Mayor. Population about 600.

PROVO

Is the county town of Utah county. It is forty-eight miles from Salt Lake City, and lies on the northeast side of Lake Utah, situated a little south of the Provo, or Timpanogos, river, and not far from the mouth of Provo canon. It has fine facilities in water power, farming lands, timber, the fisheries in Lake Utah, and in location, for becoming a place of considerable importance in the future. It has a beautiful church, which was opened for public worship in the summer of 1868; a brick court house; a theatre; a dancing hall, in which social parties are held; five district schools and a number of private schools. A. O. Smoot is Mayor. Population about 4,000.

SPRINGVILLE,

Six miles south of Provo, is a neat town, pleasantly situated, with a population of 1,200.

SPANISH FORK

Is twelve miles south of Provo, and not far from the mouth of Spanish Fork canon, up which is the most direct road to Uintah valley, in the Uintah range of mountains. Three miles from it, on the road to Payson, was the Indian reservation till the treaty made here by Government with the chiefs of the Utah tribes in June, 1865. Spanish Fork has a population of 1,200.

NORTH.

The first settlement north of Salt Lake City is

BOUNTIFUL,

In Davis county, with a population of nearly 2,000, scattered over an area of several miles as a farming community. It has a very neat and elegant church, which is ten miles from Salt Lake City.

CENTREVILLE

Is three miles north of Bountiful, lying in a fruitful part of the country, with a farming population of 600.

FARMINGTON

Is the county seat of Davis county. It has a large adobe court house, the upper story of which is used for meetings and other public purposes; a substantial rock church, and a hotel. Its population is about 1,100. Distance from Salt Lake City, 18 miles.

KAYSVILLE,

Four miles north of Farmington, has a population of about 600; a substantial built church with a capacious basement story; also a hotel.

OGDEN

Is thirty-nine miles from Salt Lake City, and lies between the Weber and Ogden rivers, near the mouth of Ogden canon. It was located and a settlement formed in September, 1850. Situated in the centre of a farming country, with thriving settlements around and contiguous to it, Ogden has natural advantages which cannot fail to make it a place of no little importance. It will be a station for the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads, and the point of junction of the two great lines which, connected, span the continent from the Missouri to the Pacific. The rapid and largely increasing trade of Ogden since the first of January shows that business men have a keen eye to its rising importance, and that its growth is likely to be rapid. It has nearly 5,000 inhabitants, with North Ogden six miles distant to the north;

Lynne three miles distant to the northwest; Slaterville about two miles from Lynne; and, following on the same road, Plain City, some ten miles from Ogden. These settlements present, in the summer season, a beautiful prospect, the fields waving with heavy grain, the orchards bearing a wealth of excellent and luscious fruit, and the shade trees covered with a dense foliage.

Ogden is the county seat of Weber county. The Mayor is Hon. Lorin Farr, who has been a member of the Territorial Legislature for several sessions. Bishop C. W. West is Postmaster, and his energy and enterprise have done much to aid the growth and development of the city.

It has a large tabernacle, for public worship, besides a number of meeting houses, in different parts of the city.

The officers of Weber county are:

Probate Judge—F. D. Richards.

Sheriff—Gilbert Belnap.

Deputy Sheriff—Wm. Brown.

County Clerk—W. Thompson.

Coroner—Wm. N. Fife.

County Recorder—W. Thompson.

County Surveyor—Jos. A. West.

Superintendent of Common Schools—Wm. W. Burton.

Assessor and Collector—Sanford Bingham.

Selectmen—L. J. Herrick, R. Ballantyne, H. Holmes.

County Poundkeeper—Robert McQuarrie.

WILLARD,

Fourteen miles north of Ogden, is a rapidly growing settlement, situated about a mile east of Great Salt Lake, and half a mile from the base of the mountains east. It has a population of over 800; Alfred Cordon, Postmaster.

BRIGHAM CITY,

The county seat of Box Elder county, is a little over seven miles north of Willard, and is one of the handsomest towns of its size in Utah. Under the fostering care and energy of the Hon. L. Snow, it is steadily growing in influence, size and importance. The houses are mostly handsome and neat structures, although but few of them are of pretentious appearance. Brigham City lies at the mouth of the Box Elder canon, up which the road passes to reach the southwest part of Cache valley, the canon opening into that valley a little distance from Wellsville, one of the principal settlements in Cache county. It is also three miles from Bear river, where the Union Pacific railroad crosses it. As a station of the U. P. R. R., it offers facilities for becoming a distributing point for the growing settlements of Cache county, and for Montana and a portion of Idaho. It has a very fine court house, in which public meetings are held, and a large and substantial tabernacle in course of erection. Its population is close upon 4,000.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

THE construction of a railroad across this continent, so as to unite with a continuous line of track the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and open a new and more rapid means of communication between the nations of Europe and those of the far east, was a project discussed by advanced minds soon after the advantages of the locomotive were practically demonstrated. Then the country to be traversed west of the Missouri river was a terra incognita, and for years afterwards was vaguely described on the maps as the "Great American Desert." Faint rumors, gathered from mountain trappers, occasionally reached the eastern states that there were vast mountain ranges lying east of the Pacific coast, with deep and rugged gorges, almost impassable to man or animal, dividing their huge bases and towering summits; while impenetrable deserts and wonders startling and innumerable heightened the perils of a region to be dreaded by civilized man.

The explorations of Fremont, while they disabused the public mind of many previously entertained erroneous impressions, did not by any means elucidate the practicability of an overland railroad. Nor were they calculated to encourage hope that the country through the Rocky Mountains and in the Great Basin could ever be made profitable in supporting by its products a civilized population. When in 1846-7 the Mormons were compelled by mobocratic violence to leave Nauvoo and betake themselves to the far west for shelter, safety and a home, so popular was the opinion that it was impossible for a civilized white population to exist there, that the idea prevailed that they would perish of hunger or fall a prey to wild beasts and savage nomads. In July of 1847 their pioneers entered the valley of the Great Salt Lake; and having been firmly imbued with a belief in the future construction of an overland railroad, during the whole of their tedious journey they carefully kept it in view, and endeavored to find a practicable route for it. It is worthy of remark here, that the line which they marked, and subsequently pointed out, in a memorial to congress, as the best adapted for the talked of railroad, has been very closely followed in the construction of the line for over seven hundred miles. Yet even when they had demonstrated their ability to live and prosper in the Great Basin, and when the overland railroad project had grown to be looked upon as perfectly feasible, its construction and completion were placed away in the future to nearly the close of the present century. How rapidly events occur in this age! How fast we grow! What unlooked for yet natural combinations of circumstances have occurred to hasten the completion of a work so vast, so important and involving and fostering so many overwhelming interests! The discovery of gold in the Occident State; the rush of people to the auriferous shores laved by the mighty Pacific; the vast travel overland, following in the track of the pioneer Mormons; the thousands of nameless graves studding the prairie billows of the great plains, or marking at brief intervals, through the Black Hills and Rocky Mountains, the last earthly resting places of eastern-born brave and adventurous spirits; the shining gold brought from California, awakening interest and cupidity; with fresh discoveries of the precious metals in other regions, turned the attention of eastern capitalists and the people of the Republic to this land of dangers and desert, as it had been described; and not the feasibility but the necessity of an overland railroad now claimed and received serious consideration. The discovery of rich mines in the regions now composing Nevada, Montana and Idaho; with the rapidly growing settlements and increasing prosperity of Utah—which was a base of supplies for the surrounding mining regions—hastened the inception of the work. While the rich discoveries of the precious metals in the Pike's Peak region, now Colorado, and the up-springing of numerous towns and cities which soon claimed an importance in the great centres of commerce of the country, undoubtedly stimulated to the early commencement of the Union Pacific line; the development of the vast mineral resources of Nevada, Montana and Idaho, causing a great and growing commerce between those points and the east and west, as surely stimulated to the commencement of the Central Pacific, and to the putting forth of energies by each company which have challenged and obtained the admiration of the world, for the unparalleled progress made in a work of such magnitude.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS.

The proposed undertaking, however, was so great that private capital was doubtful of being able to accomplish it, and hesitated to enter upon the organization of a company for the construction of the line. But the necessity of having such a road daily assumed graver proportions; and finally the government, while having a terrible and unparalleledly expensive war on its hands, agreed to lend the national aid to the undertaking. The grants given to the Union Pacific and Central Pacific lines were alike; that to the former including, in government six per cent. currency interest thirty-year bonds, $16,000 per mile, for 517 miles from the Missouri river to the base of the Rocky Mountains; $48,000 per mile, for 150 miles westward from the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains; and $82,000 per mile for the rest of the distance until it should meet with the Central Pacific. To this government added, as a grant, every alternate section of land for twenty miles on each side of the railroad, or 12,800 acres for each mile, worth at the government price of $1.25 per acre, $16,000 a mile; but as an act of congress, signed March

THE TRAVELING PUBLIC CAN FIND SHOES AND SHOE FINDINGS AT DUNFORD & SONS.

7th, 1868, provides that the government alternate sections shall not be sold for less than $2,50 per acre, it is but fair to estimate the sections granted to the railroad at the same price. Government also granted the companies the right to issue their own mortgage bonds to an amount equal to the bonds issued by the United States to the company; with the rights of way and material, including the necessary public lands for track, stations, depots, etc.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY.

A charter for the construction of the road was granted in July of 1862; and in October of 1863 a preliminary organization was made, followed soon after by a formal organization with a board of fifteen directors to which was added five government directors. In the following August the first contract for construction was let; and the work proceeded slowly till January 1866, at which time but forty miles of track were laid. Difficulties of no ordinary character had to be encountered from the outset. Among these financial difficulties that would have disheartened men less energetic and persevering than those who had the work in hand, had to be met and overcome. These conquered, others presented themselves. On this subject, a correspondent of the Boston Journal treating upon it has said:

"The Company commenced operations at Omaha, then a small town, destitute alike of the skill necessary for the practical construction of such a public work, and destitute even of the mere manual force necessary. Mechanics were needed, laborers were needed; if they were summoned from abroad, boarding places must be found, and some kind of homes extemporized. There were no shops in which, and no tools with which, to labor. Shovels, spades, picks, plows, axes and other implements were to be purchased in Chicago, Buffalo, Boston, New York or Philadelphia, wherever they could be found best in quality and cheapest in price, and transported to this new point of departure. And here again was another obstacle to be contended with, for as yet no rail track had been laid nearer than about 150 miles of the east bank of the Missouri river. Over this distance, therefore, all men and materials had to be transported by the slow and expensive process of wagon trains. The engine of 70 horse power, now propelling the Company's works at Omaha, was thus carried in wagons from Des Moines, on the river of that name, that at the time being the only available means of getting it through. Again, west of the Missouri river the country is almost entirely destitute of trees, and excepting a limited supply of cottonwood, similar in fibre and strength to the old Lombardy poplar of the east, there was nothing from which railroad ties could be obtained. East of the Missouri the forest conditions were quite similar, so that in a short time it came to pass that the very ties on which the railroad has been constructed had to be cut in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, and teamed over the country at an expense sometimes of two dollars and seventy-five cents per tie. Then it should be added that the supplies necessary for the support, clothing and maintenance of the laborers were also to be purchased, far east and transported as before. In less than a year these difficulties were confronted and conquered, and the great work begun in serious earnest."

CONSTRUCTION OF THE ROAD.

The forty miles laid in January, 1866, had stretched into 305 in the January of 1867; and in January, 1868, 540 miles were completed. In March, 1869, the cars had reached and passed Ogden, 1,082 miles west of the Missouri River, about 500 miles of track having been laid in the later fourteen months. The astonishing triumph of railroad building on the great overland line so far exceeds anything previously accomplished of a similar work that no rival parallel can be drawn. The Union Pacific Company now runs their cars direct to Ogden, within a short distance of Salt Lake, with a schedule time of thirty hours from Ogden to Cheyenne, fifty hours to Omaha, seventy-eight hours to Chicago and five days to New York.

ALONG THE LINE.

A number of towns have sprung up along the line and others have grown to be places of importance with a rapidity commensurate with the prosecution of the work of construction. Omaha, which a few years ago, was but a small outfitting point for emigrant and freighters' wagon trains starting westward, has now some fifteen thousand inhabitants, with energetic, pushing business men who are in full sympathy with the growth of the city, ambitious to see it rise in importance, and already stretching out to secure a full share of the trade of the western territories. Its position on the western bank of the Missouri river; the converging lines of railroad which meet on the opposite side of the river at Council Bluffs and which carry to the great Union Pacific the commerce and traffic of the south and east; and the broad Missouri bearing on its bosom from St. Louis and other points almost a nation's ransom of freight, give to Omaha natural advantages which can not fail to make it a city of great importance and size in a very few years.

Fremont, North Platte, Cheyenne, and other towns along the line have natural advantages and central positions which cannot fail to make them places of much importance as the country around them becomes settled and developed.

One interesting feature connected with travel on the line of the Union Pacific Railroad, and one, too, as novel as it is interesting, is found in the herds of antelope and buffalo which are often passed through. The lithe and graceful antelopes, startled with the snorting of the locomotive, erect their heads as if in astonishment, and seeing the strange looking monster speeding away from them often start out in full career to outrun the huge thing that rushes along so swiftly and steadily in a direct line. They will sometimes run thus for two or three miles, keeping pace with the train of cars and gracefully flinging back their heads as if in proud defiance of the tireless engine with which they vainly try to compete. Large herds of buffaloes are occasionally seen, scattered in wild confusion, cross the track, toss up the earth on either side of the line, shake their shaggy manes, and wildly dash across the prairie.

THE DENVER BRANCH LINE,

Running from Cheyenne to Denver, will connect Colorado with the Union Pacific Railroad, and open up rapid communication between that point and the east and west. A system of wooden railroads, proposed and chartered some time ago by enterprising citizens of Colorado, is rapidly growing in favor there, and their construction will probably be commenced at an early day. When completed, they will place the rich mineral and timber lands of the principal parts of the Territory in close communication with Denver, aid in the development of the whole Territory, and centralize its wealth at a point in close connection with the great overland route.

THE SCENERY

Along portions of the Union Pacific is most attractive, and in places sublime. Reaching the Wasatch range, and passing down the wild gorges known as Echo and Weber Canons, a constant successions of bold, beautiful and magnificently picturesque scenery opens to view. The towering, rocky sides, fashioned by the hand of time in wierd looking and fantastic shapes, astonish and awe the beholder. Tourists and travelers will find in the scenery through which the great overland railroad passes, enough to turn the attention of those who love and seek the sublime, picturesque and beautiful from the oft-trodden scenes of Europe to the "back bone" of the American Continent. Passing through the Wasatch Range, Salt Lake Valley is entered, and the

GREAT SALT LAKE

Stretches away to the north and south, with islands rising out of its bed which have the proportions of lofty mountains. The waters of the Lake hold in solution an extraordinary amount of saline matter, varying at different points, according to their contiguity to the rivers emptying into it or distance from them, from fifteen per cent. to twenty-six per cent. An abundance of salt is consequently obtained from it, an article of a coarse quality being got in such quantities at times on the shores that it can be shoveled into wagons; while by boiling an excellent table salt is procured. The line of railway passes up the eastern side of the Lake, northward, with the giant peaks of the grand Wasatch range to the right; and after crossing Bear river, stretches away to the west towards Promontory Point.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC.

The western portion of the line has been constructed with a rapidity, engineering skill and energy in overcoming difficulties which challenges admiration no less than the Union Pacific. Cutting a roadway and laying a line of track across the Sierras, along the side of mountain declivities where yawning precipices drop down into frightful depths, and through passes seemingly impassable is an engineering triumph which cannot well be appreciated by those who have not passed over the line. The two great companies have fairly won the honors which accrue to them in having built the greatest railroad line in the world, bringing the connecting points together, from a distance of about seventeen hundred miles in a little over three years from time the work was fairly entered upon; for the short distance laid, up till the January of 1868, can scarcely be taken into account.

The developement of the great west consequent upon the completion of this work; the vast traffic which will pass over it; the closer linking of the old nations of Eastern Asia with those of Western Europe; the growth of a power in the west that will speedily rival in all the essentials of greatness the older and eastern States of the Union; and the important results growing out of this truly national work, in which the Republic may justly take pride, are points which the most sanguine can scarcely overestimate.

DIRECT ROUTE EAST.

The travel from the Pacific coast and the Great Basin, when they reach the terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad at Omaha, can travel eastward by a direct line on the

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN

Railroad, the distance between Chicago and Omaha by it being 493 miles. This line is in excellent condition, with splendid cars, Pullman's palace sleeping coaches, and every requisite convenience and comfort. By it, too, they can make connections, at COUNCIL BLUFFS, with the Council Bluffs and St. Jo Railroad for Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, St. Jo, etc.; at BOONE, with stagecoaches to Des Moines and Fort Dodge; and at DIXON with the Illinois Central Railroad for points north and south. The line passes through the flourishing towns of Council Bluffs, Dunlap, Boone, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, and Dixon.

ITS GROWTH AND TRADE.

Less than forty years ago the place where Chicago now stands was a prairie, bordering on Lake Michigan, on which a log fort garrisoned by two companies of United States troops; a fur agency; three taverns; two stores; a blacksmith's shop; a house for the interpreter of the station; and one occupied by Indian Chiefs, were the only habitations and evidences of the white man's having selected it for an abiding place. To-day it has probably 350,000 inhabitants. The history of growth to greatness contained in this single statement places the "Garden City" above all competitors in rapid development and progressive prosperity. Its miles of stately avenues, where palatial residences present most varied and artistic architectural beauties; its streets stretching miles on miles in length; the broad and noble boulevards which will soon wind along its magnificent parks; its long lines of wharves, where hundreds of large vessels, lake steamers and smaller craft, discharge their freight or receive their loading, all mark a young but giant municipality whose inhabitants are filled with a laudable ambition to make their city not merely the metropolis of the great States to which it is a naturally geographical and central mart, but one of the leading cities of the world.

To notice in detail and describe all the points of interest which Chicago presents to a visitor, would require much more space than can be devoted to it here; indeed it would fill a volume of respectable size to do them justice.

PLACES OF INTEREST.

THE LAKE TUNNEL

Is a work which, did any other one not exist to prove it, would be sufficient evidence of the enterprise and energy which have made Chicago what it is. The turbid waters near the shore of Lake Michigan, as the city grew in extent and population, were mixed with the contents of the miles of sewerage which traversed the city limits. The "villainous compound" could not be endured for drinking, culinary purposes and ablutions. Yet the lake was the only available source for any abundant supply, and to obtain pure water it was determined to work a tunnel under the bed of the lake to a distance where it could be obtained, and thus bring it clear and sparkling from the body of the lake into the city. Ground was broken for the tunnel on the 17th of March, 1864. A shaft nine feet in diameter was sunk, at a point selected close to the lake, to a depth of sixty-five feet. The tunnel was then commenced and carried for a distance of two miles beneath the bed of the lake to a point determined upon; where an immense "crib," constructed at an expense of over one hundred thousand dollars, and built like a ship, was taken and securely weighted down and moored. In the centre of this crib was a well open at bottom and top, down which another shaft was run into the bed of the lake, and the work of tunneling was carried on from both ends. On the 24th of November, 1866, the tunnel was completed; and since then Chicago has enjoyed an abundance of pure water.

At the water-works are three powerful engines, the largest of which is capable of pumping from the tunnel eighteen million gallons of water in twenty-four hours; and a building is erected and being finished in which will be placed two more very large and powerful engines.

THE WASHINGTON STREET TUNNEL,

Which passes underneath an arm of the Chicago river is another engineering triumph and an object of interest. The immense traffic over the bridges which are thrown across the river was so much impeded by the passage of vessels up and down, causing the bridges to be kept open often for a length of time, that the arrangements of business men were largely interfered with, and it became so great an inconvenience, that it was determined to tunnel under the river. This has been successfully done, and there is now a passage way under the water, arched with brick, floored with timber, lighted with gas, which will greatly facilitate business communications between the two sides of the river. The Washington Street Tunnel is well worthy the attention of visitors to the "Garden City."

At the corner of Western and Chicago Avenues are two artesian wells, which will well repay a visit from those who have the time at their disposal. One is about a thousand feet deep, and the other about seven hundred. They were bored by oil speculators, who expected to obtain petroleum but found water instead. A million gallons a day of water is discharged from them. They are near together, with a bore of about six inches each.

The large Court House, to which extensive additions were being made in April; the Chamber of Commerce building; the Post Office; the Dearborn Observatory; the parks; the various buildings devoted to benevolent and charitable purposes, etc.; and the stock yards, four miles south of the city, are objects of interest, and evidences of the spirit and enterprise of the citizens.

THEATRES.

Chicago may congratulate itself upon its theatres. Besides numerous other places of amusement and entertainment, it possesses four excellent temples of the drama, in which varied tastes can be gratified.

CROSBY'S OPERA HOUSE

Is the largest, having a seating capacity to accommodate about 2,400 persons. It is the building which was made famous throughout the United States by the Crosby Opera House lottery scheme. It is situated on Washington street, between State and Dearborn, with a frontage of 143 feet on Washington. On the main floor is the parquette and orchestra stalls; on the second floor is the dress circle, the centre being divided into fifty boxes. The family circle is on the third floor, which conveys a covert insinuation that families must climb considerably to obtain operatic and theatrical enjoyment. The stage is not quite so large as that of the Salt Lake City Theatre. The auditorium is 36x95 feet, with a ceiling 65 feet high, the latter being decorated with portraits of leading composers. The style of drama produced partakes more of the sensational and "leg" character than of the legitimate.

M'VICKER'S THEATRE,

On Madison street, between Dearborn and State, is the next largest theatre in the city. It is managed by Messrs. McVicker & Myers, the former named gentleman owning the theatre and Mr. Myers principally managing it, besides occupying with his lady the leading position among the company. The building is 80 feet between the walls and 160 feet deep. It is capable of seating some 1,800 persons. It is tastefully finished and well arranged, and has a very pleasing appearance inside. On the main floor are the parquette and reserved seats; on the second floor the dress circle and balcony reserved seats; while the third floor is devoted more particularly to those who aspire to the dignity of theatrical deities. In this theatre the sensational and legitimate drama find place for exposition, and all the leading stars of the country are secured that their specialties may be presented to the public. Mr. Myers is a courteous and affable gentleman who plays with much ability and manages the theatre most admirably.

COL. WOOD'S MUSEUM,

Situated on Randolph street, between Clark and Dearborn, combines natural history with the drama, and presents the visitor with an excellent collection of mineralogical, orinthological, animal and collected specimens illustrative of the natural world and of savage and civilized art. The catalogue of birds, reptiles, quadrupeds and insects comprises some twelve hundred specimens, from all parts of the world, to which additions are being constantly made. Geological and relic rooms contain most interesting geological and mineralogical specimens. The funeral bier and memorable relics of Lincoln; wax work figures of the last supper and trial before Pontius Pilate of our Savior Jesus Christ, which are made to move by machinery; a model of the Capitol at Washington; one of the Parthenon; a grotto of Antiparos; illustrated views of California; two cosmoramic saloons; and the mummies around which the papyrus was rolled on which the Book of Abraham—published in the Pearl of Great Price—was inscribed, form a collection of specimens worthy the attention of all and the admiration of the student of nature. The mummies were sold by those who had them in charge after the death of the Prophet, Joseph Smith, and were afterwards obtained for the Museum—so the printed catalogue states.

Besides the attractions named is another, which cannot be overlooked, in the reproduction of a denizen of primeval days, which has received the name of Zeuglodon Macrospandylus, one of an extinct species to which the generic name of Hydrachen has been given. The skeleton of this monster was found in the state of Arkansas; and its length, as it sported in the wilds of primitive earth, was ninety-six feet.

With the museum is a fine, large, roomy theatre, under the management of J. W. Blaisdell, Esq., where the sensational and standard drama finds correct interpretation. The company is a very good one; the pieces produced are mounted and put upon the stage with much care and taste; and the patronage bestowed upon the Museum and theatre is most liberal and well deserved.

THE DEARBORN THEATRE,

Or "Aiken's Dearborn Theatre," is a perfect bijou of a place, principally devoted to the intellectual and refining of the standard modern comedies. The company at this theatre is most excellent, the actors and actresses being conversant with their business and manifesting an appreciation of the higher requirements of their profession instead of seeking the silly and vain clap-trap applause of the ignorant and uncultivated. Mr. Aiken is a gentleman of culture, who is devoted to his profession, and who is not governed alone by the mere mercenary objects of gathering "dollars and dimes" into the treasury. He is doing more to elevate the tastes of the people to an appreciation of refined and intellectual dramatic representations than, perhaps, any other manager in the eastern states. A good actor, a popular manager, and a general favorite, he has surrounded himself with ladies and gentlemen of congenial tastes; and the consequence is that at all times a treat may be anticipated in witnessing a performance at the "Dearborn." From a lengthy article in a Chicago paper, reviewing Mr. Aiken's career as "manager, actor and man," we make the following extract—premising that it is not near so eulogistic as other paragraphs in the article:

"But little that we can say will add to the knowledge possessed by the majority of our readers in regard to the career of Mr. Frank E. Aiken, whether as actor or manager. If we would praise, we have but to name one whose reputation is identical at once with excellence in a great variety of the most exquisite parts which the standard drama contains, and with tact, enterprise, liberality and conscientious fidelity both to matters of taste and of morals in theatrical management. In short the Chicago public, who have known him for five years, know all that we could possibly relate of a professional career, whose previous years were those of hard study and incessant practice in an art which is indeed 'long' in comparison with the most extended life the most earnestly and busily occupied in mastering it."

Comedy, in the Dearborn theatre, finds a fitting temple, and in the company faithful interpreters. The house is not large, but it is chastely elegant; and while the characters are presented with a rare fidelity to nature in this season of sensation and "broad effects," the pieces are mounted in a style that manifests the taste of a student and the culture of an artist. The business manager, Mr. Mann, the stage manager, Mr. Keller, and the treasurer, Mr. Marsh will be found gentlemen by all who meet them. We commend the "Aiken's Dearborn Theatre" to the extensive patronage of a cultivated public.

In addition to those noticed are the German theatre, the Theatre Comique, Farwell Hall, Turner Hall, Arlington Hall, Crosby's Music Hall, and a number of other places devoted to amusement and entertainment.

HOTELS.

Chicago is well supplied with good hotels capable of affording accommodation to a very large number of guests.

THE BRIGGS HOUSE,

B. H. Skinner, proprietor, situated on the corner of Randolph and Wells streets, is a favorite first class hotel. It is in close proximity to the Court House, the Chamber of Commerce and the leading business portion of the city; and is within convenient distance of the theatres and other places of amusement. The superintendent, G. H. French, Esq., and the clerks, are gentlemanly and courteous, the waiters obliging and attentive, and the cuisine admirable, while the tables are furnished in a sumptuous manner. The house is large, five stories high, and can afford accommodation for about four hundred and fifty guests. Parties from the west will find this an excellent and comfortable stopping place.

The Sherman House, corner of Clark and Randolph streets; the Tremont House, corner of Lake and Dearborn; the Matteson House, corner of Dearborn and Randolph; St. James Hotel, on State, corner of Washington; the Revere House, on the north side, corner of North Clark and Kinzie; the Adams House, corner of Lake street and Michigan avenue; the Richmond House, corner of South Water street and Michigan avenue; the Metropolitan, southwest corner of Randolph and Wells; the Barnes House, corner of Randolph and Canal; and the City Hotel, corner of Lake and State, are all popular hotels and extensively patronized.

LEADING BUSINESS HOUSES.

The trade of Chicago is very large, and daily growing larger. The leading merchants who have made the city their home are men of enterprise, a large percentage of them being young and with all the energy which young blood possesses when imbued with the spirit of this really "go-a-head" age. We can recommend the following firms in their several lines, as first-class houses that have the determination, and are striving assiduously for it, to wrest from the eastern sea-board cities the trade of the great west.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Austin & Boal, 221 and 223 South Water street, are a firm well known, firmly established, and doing a large and paying business. In agricultural implements, farmers' tools, stoves and hollow ware, wagon and carriage stock, etc., they are heavy manufacturers and jobbers. Buyers in their line of goods, visiting Chicago, will do well to pay them a visit.

ALES AND PORTERS.

On the north side of the river, and close to the Water Works, are Lill's brewery, J. Bromfield, secretary; and that of the Sands' Ale Brewing Co., F. A. Wheeler, secretary. So popular are the ales manufactured in these two establishments that signs announcing the fact of one or the other of them being sold inside are placed over most of the saloons in Chicago.

Lill's brewery has a frontage of about 200 feet and runs 1000 feet from front to rear, including the necessary offices, coopers' shop, etc. It is supplied with every requisite for producing the best articles of ales and porter in demand; and has a storage capacity in its cellars for about 120,000 gallons. It enjoys a large and profitable trade, and the business is being rapidly extended westward.

The Sands' Ale Brewing Company is the first establishment that has yet shipped ales west of the Wasatch range, having filled an order last Fall for the Salt Lake City Billiard Rooms. F. A. Wheeler, Esq., the secretary of the company, is an enterprising, wide-awake gentleman, who is determined to maintain the high reputation which the brewery has gained for producing a most superior quality of ales, porter and beer. The establishment turns out an enormous quantity for the market and has a very large trade extending into the surrounding States and away to the far west.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

The firm of T. B. Weber & Co., is a leading house in the boot and shoe trade. Occupying very extensive premises, six stories high, at No. 9 Lake street, which are filled with manufactured goods and materials; they are compelled by increasing business to move in July into a still larger building, and will occupy 3, 5 and 7 Lake street from that date. Keeping a large number of excellent workmen constantly employed their stock is always complete; and the amount of their sales annually reach a very high figure. That their trade is rapidly growing is simply a natural result of selling a superior and warranted quality of goods at a very low margin of profit.

The firm of M. D. Wells & Co., 38 Lake street, is also a leading house in the boot and shoe business, manufacturing their own goods; keeping a large and complete stock on hand; and selling at figures that present strong inducements to buyers, the secret of their success can be easily understood.

CLOCKS.

The American Clock Co., 115 Lake street, W. F. Tompkins, agent, has already done considerable business in Utah, and their trade is steadily increasing. They keep supplied with a most complete assortment of American clocks; and are sole agents for the E. N. Welch Manufacturing Co., the New Haven Clock Co., and Seth Thomas Clock Co. For quality, variety and price they occupy a first position, and are, perhaps, the most extensive dealers and jobbers in their line in the United States. They have a house in New York, at 3 Cortlandt street, and another at San Francisco, 810 Sausome street.

CLOTHS.

Charles Beardalee, Bros. & Co., 87 and 89 Michigan avenue, take rank as one of the first houses in the cloth business in Chicago. Their stock of goods is most complete, comprising the best quality of foreign and domestic manufactures.

CLOTHING.

For a line of ready made clothing we can confidently recommend the firm of Young, Brothers & Co., 98 and 100 Michigan avenue. An old established firm in New York and St. Louis, they do a thriving business, and job at the lowest possible margin of profits. Ever keeping supplied with an immense stock of goods suitable for the season, they are prepared to meet the trade and give figures to western buyers which will command sales. W. F. Adams, Esq., of this house, will be found by those who make his acquaintance, a gentleman who is determined to do business and secure trade for the firm.

CRACKERS.

The cracker manufactory of C. L. Woodman & Co., 230 and 232 Kinzie street, is a notable feature of Chicago. Mr. Woodman has enjoyed Aldermanic honors; is an enterprising, spirited gentleman; and stands high in the estimation of his fellow citizens. He has the only cracker factory of the kind in the United States; and to give the figures of the quantity of crackers turned out in his establishment in a day would be equal to inviting discredit to the statement. On the opening of his cracker manufactory the Chicago Journal said; "Henceforth the world will know that until some other city may beat Chicago, the latter possesses the largest bakery in the world, and she throws down the gauntlet of comparison. Yesterday this gigantic establishment was formally opened by the proprietor, whose name, Charles L. Woodman, is already famed in the north, south, east and west, over this vast continent." Details of the building follow; and the opening was hailed by the Chicago press as an "event" in the annals of city enterprise. The building is extensive and adjoining the freight depot of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, where goods can be easily and readily shipped. The whole machinery of the establishment is run by steam; and prices at which the various kinds of plain and fancy crackers are jobbed show that the business must be enormous to make them pay. The baking is done in two of Vale's rotary ovens, an ingenious invention which is worthy of elaborate description. The concern is in a most flourishing condition.

CHARLES L. WILSON, Proprietor.
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

DRY GOODS.

The name of J. V. Farwell & Co., is so closely associated with the dry goods trade in Chicago, and with the prosperity of the city, that it has come to be viewed as a synonym for enterprise and honorable dealing. Farwell Hall is named after the senior member of the firm, and is a token of the honorable esteem in which he is held. The trade done by this house is immense and growing; so much so that this season they design erecting a new store a short distance south of their present location, with a capacity to do a business of twenty-five millions. The premises now occupied by them are situated on Wabash avenue, Nos. 42, 44 and 46, and are owned by the firm who are thus relieved from the heavy burden which they would have to carry did they rent, and this places them in a position to give buyers the benefit of proportionately lower expenses, in a smaller margin of profit required on sales. The vast pile of goods on hand in the saleroom are but indications of what are to be found on the floors where the stock is kept in bulk; and the regiment of employees are ever busy in business hours. Their trade is exclusively wholesale.

Bowen, Whitman & Winalow, in the same line, are situated on Randolph street, Nos. 15 and 17. With an immense stock of dry goods constantly on hand, bought in the best markets, they are in a position to make figures advantageous to the buyers; and their trade is a healthy and growing one. George S. Bowen, Esq., of the firm, is president of the Wool Manufacturers and Wool Growers Association of the Northwest, and as such is philanthropically interested in the development of the highly important branch of domestic manufactures which the society represents. The firm is a first class one, and invite inspection of their stock.

DRUGS.

In drugs, Burnham & Van Schaack, 1 and 3 Randolph street, deservedly hold a first place. Wholesale drug and paint dealers, with a full line of goods, and most extensive premises filled from basement to sixth story, they are in a position to promptly fill any invoice that may be ordered; while being heavy shippers direct from the manufacturers, they can make figures which smaller buyers could not reach down to. The house has only to extend their acquaintance to secure proportionately increased business. They also manufacture a warranted and strictly pure white lead; and have a full stock of the best selected and imported wines and liquors. We commend the house to western druggists and those engaged in the trade.

FILE MANUFACTURERS.

Abbott & Howard, 21 Dearborn street, are the agents for the celebrated files of Thomas Firth & Sons, steel and file manufacturers, Sheffield, England. The celebrity of these goods, only requires that the agents' names and business place should be known.

FURNITURE.

The completion of the line of railroad through to Utah will have a tendency to open up several branches of business which have been comparatively unnoticed before. Among these will doubtless be the importation of furniture to that region. W. W. Strong, furniture manufacturer and dealer, 203 Randolph street, possesses excellent advantages for meeting the demand, being able to furnish furniture in every desirable style, of excellent quality, and at rates that will successfully meet competition.

GROCERIES.

The largest grocery establishment in the west is that of Day, Allen & Co., 84 and 86 Randolph street. They are heavy importers of all kinds of groceries; and where they do not import they purchase in such quantities that they have many advantages in freight and other things over smaller buyers. Their sales for 1868 were about $2,500,000; for 1869 they are expected to reach over $3,000,000. In March of 1869 they amounted to $290,000 for that month alone. Buyers will gain by calling on the firm.

HARDWOOD.

With the development of the manufacture of aleighs, wagons, carriages and furniture in the west, arises the necessity of importing hard woods, such as ash, oak, hickory, black walnut, cherry, etc. Messrs. Hatch, Holbrook & Co., 265 Archer avenue and corner of Erie and Kingsbury streets, keep supplied with a very large stock of hard wood lumber; and with a yard covering a wide area where land is so very valuable, they have excellent facilities for seasoning. Their yard is edging the river, and a wharf where vessels can lay end to end, affords them accommodation for discharging the ship loads of lumber which come to them from so many different points. The firm is a first-class one.

HATS, CAPS, ETC.

In this line of business Fitch, Williams & Co., occupy a leading position. With extensive premises fronting on Lake street, Nos. 33 and 35 and having a front as well on Wabash avenue, the large and airy show rooms are excellently lighted, and the immense stock of goods can be seen to fine advantage. The latest styles and novelties in hats and caps, straw goods, and everything in that line of business, are kept in quantity to meet the requirements of a heavy jobbing trade; and the figures at which the firm do business are well calculated to divert the western trade in this branch of business from leading cities farther east. Merchants visiting Chicago and designing to make purchases in their line will do well to call on this firm.

IRON WORKS.

At Richards' Iron Works, 190 and 192 Washington street, can be found a magnificent assortment of machinery of various kinds, including some of the most valuable patents in the United States, a result of the inventive and constructive powers of Mr. Richards. Their suction and force pumps, adapted for planing mills, saw mills, grist mills, elevators, warehouses, hand fire engines, etc., etc., have been tested under the most trying circumstances, such as in the construction of the Washington Tunnel, under the Chicago river, and have met the most unqualified endorsement by those best capable of judging of their merits. Portable steam engines; Mr. Richards' own patent of a corn sheller and cleaner; belting, buckets, shafting and pulleys, iron and Burr stone mills, smut machines, wheat separators, etc., are manufactured by this firm, of excellent quality and have a wide range of usefulness.

JEWELRY.

B. F. Norris & Co., 123 Lake street, up stairs, as a first-class wholesale jewelry house, enjoy an enviable reputation. Doing an extensive business in their line, they offer superior inducements, to buyers of jewelry and watches. Everything in diamonds, jewelry, watches, fine plated goods, which the wants of the western market demand, will be found at this house; and an acquaintance with Mr. Norris will be equivalent to a certainty of purchasing from him, for he is determined to meet competition on legitimate grounds. The goods kept on hand by this firm contain so much that is beautiful and unique, that an examination would be a treat for an artistic eye and refined taste.

228 and 230 Washington Street,

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

hand in warehouse and in bond, do a large business with the trade. Their wines comprise the most esteemed brands; and their spirits are of the finest known on the continent. The drug trade who wish pure liquors and the best quality of wines will profit by an acquaintance with the house.

MILLINERY, FANCY GOODS, ETC.

The heaviest importers of French flowers, velvets, bonnet silks and millinery in the United States, are, undoubtedly, Keith Brothers, 68 and 70 Wabash avenue. It is a rare treat, open to all interested in the trade, to pass through their extensive rooms, where masses of goods are arranged with artistic skill. With two fronts to their building, the Main one Wabash avenue, and the rear facing Dearborn park, there is a flood of light in every story from the basement up. They occupy five floors, each 165 feet by 50, besides a high basement, 195 by 50—all admirably adapted to their business, which is exclusively wholesale. The wide avenue in front and the street in the rear afford ample room for shipping and receiving, while the open park and lake view beyond, besides rendering the outlook unusually pleasant to the visiting merchant, afford him a better light for examining stock than is usually to be had in such stores.

Possessing capital which places them above the necessity of buying "on time," they go into the first markets of the world where ready cash is the vade mecum to the best bargains, and thus they are enabled to purchase the choicest goods on the best importers' terms; and for this purpose they keep a buyer in the Parisian and other principal European markets. By this means, and by shipping in such bulk, they can meet any competitors in the United States markets.

Velvets from Lyons; silks and ribbons from Basle; new styles in bonnets and dress hats from Paris; caps from Glasgow; laces from Nottingham; and other goods from the places where they are manufactured in Europe, are purchased by their European buyer, who is thoroughly conversant with the trans-Atlantic trade. Their importations independent of their domestic purchases, which are proportionately large, reach in the neighborhood of half a million annually.

But their business includes, as well, straw-goods, hats, caps and furs making a heavy wholesale trade in these articles. Every desirable variety of hat and cap, in style, finish and make, can be had from them; and all so arranged in the department devoted to them, that they can be examined and any selection made without disturbing the admirable arrangement which exists throughout, and without trouble.

NOTIONS, HOSIERY, ETC.

In this line of business unquestionably the firm of C. A. & C. H. Barnum & Co., have no successful competitors. The partners of the firm, Messrs. C. A. Barnum, C. H. Barnum, J. D. Mason and J. B. Staring, are young men, full of energy and enterprise, attention to business, courteous and gentlemanly, who are determined to do business on legitimate principles, and have already secured a large and lucrative trade in the surrounding states and in the great west. Their stock of goods is most complete, and through long experience in buying they can figure down exceedingly low, being satisfied with a small margin, knowing that such a course by making a heavily increased business always pays. In hosiery, gloves, white goods, linens, hoop skirts, corsets, handkerchiefs, veils, bereges, velvet ribbons, belt ribbons, shirts, thread, umbrellas, parasols, perfumery, etc., etc., they keep in stock a full line and are prepared to job on advantageous terms to buyers. We heartily commend O. A. & C. H. Barnum & Co., to intending purchasers.

PIANOS.

The influence of music upon society is daily becoming more and more recognized; but in no place are its refining and elevating influences more appreciated or better recognized than among the people who inhabit the valleys of Utah. J. Bauer & Co., manufacturers and importers of musical instrument and wholesale dealers in pianos and organs, of 89 Washington street, stand in the front rank of music and musical instrument dealers in Chicago. With a house at 650 Broadway, New York, and their extensive one in Chicago, they are prepared to supply choirs, bands, harmonic societies, and similar associations with the most approved instruments, pianos and organs.

PRINTERS, BOOKBINDERS, ETC.

Rounds & James, of 46 State street, have made themselves a character for excellence of execution, promptness in dispatch, and quality of material, in job printing, bookbinding, electrotyping, and furnishing printers' materials, which places them in the front of the business houses in their line in Chicago. With a full supply of type and printers' materials, capital workmen, most excellent taste, and fine business facilities, they can give satisfaction in anything from printing a business card to furnishing a first class newspaper or jobbing office. We know of no house in their line of business that we can so well recommend.

SASH, THIN CEILING, ETC.

The Garden City Planing Mill is situated on Canal street. The mill was burned down in March; but with the recuperative energy which is a characteristic of Chicago under such adverse circumstances, in about two weeks from the terrible fire which destroyed it, and with it the lives of several firemen engaged in attempting to extinguish the flames, the machinery was again working and the business of the company suffered but a very temporary interruption. The quality and quantity of sash turned out; the amount of planing, grooving, tonguing and beading done, and work generally turned out of this mill would seem almost fabulous to those unacquainted with the magnitude of such a business, were the figures given. One article produced here commends itself to special attention, in the "thin ceiling" produced, which is calculated to work a revolution in hard finished plastering and ceiling, by offering a superior and elegant article of wood finish, at very low figures, to take the place of plastering work. The superintendent, W. Wisdom, Esq., is confident that he can ship goods by rail for the west at rates that will secure buyers.

SEEDS, ETC.

In seeds, bulbs, roots, etc., the firm of Hovey & Heffron, 57 State street, have but to be named. Their stock is selected with the utmost care, and comprises the choicest varieties of foreign and domestic seeds, flowers, roots, etc. To this is added a most extensive stock of English, French, German, and Italian ornamental goods, in parian, bronze, etc., for house, garden and lawn. A visit to the establishment will more than amply repay the time occupied in it.

SHIP CHANDLERS.

For everything in this line, we refer our readers to Messrs. Gilbert, Hubbard & Co., ship chandlers and sail loft, 205 and 207 South Water street, corner of Wells.

SAFES.

In this department of business we recommend Messrs. Herring & Co., of 40 State street, whose champion fire and burglar proof safes have won a reputation through the country which recommends them to every business man who desires to have a protection for his books and cash on hand, which will secure them against the effort of burglars and the ravages of fire. The factory is on Fourteenth street, corner of Indiana avenue.

STOVES.

Messrs. Ransom & Co. of 205 Randolph street, in their show rooms have one of the finest stock of stoves for inspection to be found in the United States. With everything that can make a stove excellent applied in their manufacture; with numerous most valuable patents; and selling at prices which invite increasing trade, they are prepared to do a business to any amount in most desirable and serviceable office stoves, parlor ranges, and wood and coal cook stoves. The works are at Albany, New York, and are in constant and rapid communication with the Chicago house.

WAGONS.

The number of wagons which have crossed the plains during the last twenty years, and which have been put into service in the west has alone made a heavy trade in them. Yet there are peculiarities about western travel and the working of wagons in the west, which eastern manufacturers do not well understand. These are being made a special study by Bishop & Prindle, wagon manufacturers, 16 South Jefferson street, who are manufacturing an article especially for the Utah trade. From an examination of their stock, the quality of material employed in the construction of their wagons, and the method adopted to secure a certain and complete seasoning of the timber used, there is no question but their wagons will rapidly grow in public favor throughout the west.

WHITE LEAD, ETC.

Heath & Milligan, 170 and 172 Randolph street, produce an excellent quality of articles at their white lead, zinc and color works. We recommend dealers in these and kindred articles to give them a call. They are also agents for the LaSalle Glass Company.

WINES (DOMESTIC.)

John Exton, 27 Washington street, makes a speciality of California wines, brandy and champagne, receiving the best brands direct from the makers, and on terms which enable him to sell at prices as low as they can be bought either in the New York market or at the vineyards where made. Every wine of celebrity, of California make, California brandy, and the best article of wine bitters he keeps constantly and largely in stock, received from the California Wine Company expressly for the drug and family trade. He also keeps on hand a large stock of the best Kentucky and Canada whiskies.

WOOL AND WOOLEN GOODS.

Messrs. Sturges, McAllister & Co., 80 and 82 Wabash avenue, are the leading firm in wool and woollen goods not only in Chicago but in the west. Their sales from January 1st to December 31st, 1868, amounted $1,007,854.80, as we find by the Chicago Live Stock Reporter. Making a speciality of domestic manufactured goods over foreign importations, the energies of the firm have been directed to the development of home woollen manufactures, but more particularly in Illinois and the adjoining states. They are agents for the sale of goods manufactured in sixty mills in the United States, and of that number twenty-three are in the state of Illinois. The quality of the goods produced in those mills shows the progress which they have made in woollen manufactures, for the immense stock of Sturges, McAllister & Co. contains fabrics that will claim equality, and in some instances superiority, over the best imported goods of the same kind. The firm are also agents for the manufactures of ten cotton mills; and offer to the trade most excellent fabrics made by them. The wool trade of the west has received much aid from this firm who are largely interested in it.

TUBULAR KEROSENE LANTERN.

Our "Tubular" Kerosene Lantern is entirely unlike all other Kerosene Lanterns in use. It is new in principle, and free from ALL the objections which hitherto have made Kerosene Lanterns so unpleasant and dangerous. By the aid of the bell over the globe, and the tubes leading therefrom to the burner, the flame is supplied with a strong blast of air, which renders the combustion complete, giving a pure white light free from smoke and smell, like that of a chimney lamp, and also imparting to the flame great power to endure wind and motion.

But a still greater advantage in this Lantern is the fact that the oil cup never heats or takes fire, there being two strong currents of cool air between the oil and flame. Also, the singular principle on which the Lantern is constructed prevents all over-burning, and like a "governor" on a steam engine, it shuts off the flame the instant it becomes too high or too hot. On this account the Lantern has attracted great attention among Scientific men, Insurance agents and Lantern experts. It is very simple in construction, very firm and durable; will, in every way, be satisfactory to the consumer, and affords a better margin to the Trade than any other Lantern in the market. It is sold by all the Jobbers at our lowest rates.

Chicago Manufacturing Co.,
43 & 45 Franklin Street.

P. S.—We still manufacture our celebrated Champion Lanterns, for Lard and Whale Oil, in silver, brass and tin.
